SKILLED MIGRATION

Express Entry Program

Express Entry (EE) is an online immigration application system. It allows people to submit a profile and be considered as a skilled immigrant. Candidates with the highest rankings are invited to apply for permanent residency.

Express Entry can take as little as six months to process, from submission of the Express Entry profile to the issuance of a permanent resident visa. However, not all cases will precede this quickly. Your Express Entry profile will remain active in the pool of candidates for 12 months if you are not invited to apply. If after 12 months you have not been selected, you are welcome to resubmit your profile and remain in the pool.

To break it down further:

- Your profile will remain valid for 12 months in the Express Entry pool
- Upon issuance of the ITA, you will have 90 days to provide the requested full application of documents
- Once the immigration authorities have received your complete application, your permanent resident visa should be processed within six months or less

Candidates who qualify for the following programs are also eligible to submit an application under the Express Entry program:

- Federal Skilled Worker Program (FSWP)
- Federal Skilled Trades Program (FSTP)
- Canadian Experience Class (CEC)

Language Proficiency Test Cost - IELTS

The most popular language proficiency test by far is the IELTS (International English Language Testing System.) Both spoken and written English is tested through various methods. Most English speaking countries accept the IELTS score, and as a result it can be recycled easily for multiple immigration programs in different countries.

Medical Certificates

Medical certificates must be acquired from panel physicians. Simply speaking, panel physicians are doctors certified by the IRCC to provide medical certificates for immigration purposes. The final decision regarding your health condition will be determined via the medical report sent to the physicians in Canada.

Police Clearance Certificate

Whether or not you have a criminal record, you must provide the immigration authorities with a police clearance certificate. This certificate can be easily acquired from the police station of the locality you currently reside in. A PCC verifies that you did not have any criminal record in your past. If you did have a criminal record, you can provide a reason for your conviction.
